Personal Profile

A dedicated and enthusiastic academic with several years of experience, a keen eye for details and a passion for development & growth. A self-motivated and result-driven with travels experience that makes me respectable towards diversity: broadening my communication skills as well. I have high ethical standards and demonstrate well-composed and organized mannerisms in the work environment. Having the opportunity of serving at various capacities in the polytechnic, qualifies me having high conformity levels to organizational principles and policies, working with several groups of people either as a leader or an active member. This has honed my collaborative effectiveness across several cultures and units, aiding in achieving shared goals and results.
